IMPORTANT NEWS QUICKLY TOLD

The Latest Gleanings From All Over the State

THINGS SEEN AND HEARD

Pulaski.—The schools of Pulaski city and county will open September 11. The day preceding Division Superintendent E. L. Dartt has called a conference of all county teachers in the Pulaski High School building to formulate plans for the school work during the term.

Lynchburg. — Margaret, 4-year-old daughter of W. T. Dixon, of Lynchburg, died at a hospital here from a rifle shot wound inflicted by her brother, Paul, aged 8, when she held the rifle while he attempted to insert a cartridge. The rifle was discharged with barrel almost touching the child's abdomen.

Lynchburg.—Commandant Georgs Garland, who has been in charge of the Salvation Army work here about two years, took his farewell from the local corps Sunday, preparatory to going to Roanoke to be in charge of the work in that city. Ensign Leigh and Captain Woodall, women, from Roanoke have to be in charge.

Lynchburg.—The State Highway Commission has begun condemnation proceedings to secure right of way for the Lynchburg-Danville Highway in Campbell county, the suit being against Mary Ellen Jackson. It is to secure good title to the property, as there are unknown heirs connected with the property.

Gordonsville.—S. E. Stratton, rural letter carrier on the route from here to Stations and Mechanicsville, was painfully injured as he was completing the first section of his route when his horse became frightened at a train and ran away. Mr. Stratton was thrown out of his carriage and sustained a fractured rib and other bruises and lacerations.

Roanoke.—Two negroes were killed and four injured when an automobile in which they were returning from a roadhouse, left the road about eight miles east of this city. The car, said to have been going at a high speed, upon leaving the road, cut down a locust tree and dragged it a hundred yards before stopping. The machine with the tree under it, turned over three times.

Harrisonburg.—Police so far have no clue to the identity of the two masked men who several nights ago entered the home of Mrs. Samuel Leaks, overpowered her and escaped with $201 in cash, which was concealed in clothing hanging on the wall. One of the men went directly to the place the money was concealed.

Cape Charles.—Sweet potato shipments, which started the first week in August, are moving very slowly in spite of a strong market that has been netting the growers from $8 to $10 a barrel, f. o. b. The sweet potato crop, which is said to be considerably below normal, is turning out poorly, it taking from 400 to 600 bills for a barrel of prime. The wet season at planting time, causing the fields to become grassy and the extreme drought for the last six weeks, is said to be the cause of the poor yield. Approximately 1,000,000 barrels is considered a normal yield. This season's crop is not expected to dig more than 60 per cent. normal.

Danville.—Judge Turner Clement, sitting at Pittsylvania Circuit Court in Chatham granted a temporary injunction against all Danville officials restraining them from taking any further steps in the issuance of $350,000 school improvement bonds, $100,000 street bonds and $50,000 sewer bonds. The town voted on these issues last June and they carried on the face of returns and certificates of election. The prayer for the injunction is a thirty-page document and sets forth certain irregularities in connection with the vote in that people voted who had not the right to vote and that election officials used a list of voters which was invalid. Harry C. Pickles, with a dozen other citizens, are named as complainants. The injection is returnable on October 23, but it is expected that earlier efforts will be made to dissolve it. The legal development will hamper the school authorities in carrying out the building program, it is said.

Ashland.—The ministers of Hanover county have each been asked by the Ashland League of Women Voters to aid the movement for a large registration within the borders of the county. There are about fifty churches in the county for the white people, with an enrollment of about 7,000. The league is emphasizing the value of the individual as a factor in the governmental life of the State. The committee will conduct a personal canvass of the town of Ashland and the adjacent territory.

Fredericksburg.—Menhaden fishing still continues poor in Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries and also in the Atlantic Ocean. There seems to be no fish and the outlook is very discouraging to the operators of the many fish and fertilizer factories in the Northern Neck.

Suffolk.—Captain W. Tony Mathews, of Hobson, Nansemond county, prominently known throughout this section, died at Virginia Hospital from a bullet wound, alleged to have been inflicted by Carry Robbins, a young man of this county. Mathews' wife is at home with a flesh wound on her face, inflicted, it is said, when her husband and Robbins engaged in a pistol duel at the gate of the Mathews' home. Robbins is in Nansemond county jail with his half-brother, James Francis Mathews, who was wounded in the shoulder by a bullet alleged to have been fired by Captain Mathews. A charge of murder was formally brought against the two men following the death of Captain Mathews.

Williamsburg. — National Defense Day will be notably observed here, according to the plans of a preliminary committee, consisting of Channing M. Hall, Delegate Ashton Dovell, and Willard Gilly. The authorities at Fort Eustis have announced their intention of co-operating by sending two batteries of artillery. The soldiers will parade, accompanied by the Williamsburg and Norge bands, and will give an exhibition drill on the green, when the exercises of the day will be held. Assurances are made of a prominent speaker for the occasion. Various fraternal, military and civic organizations in this section will participate in the celebration, and all county and city officers have been asked to serve on a celebration committee.

Harrisonburg.—A system of State parks in Virginia similar to that in Pennsylvania and other states is being advocated by the Shenandoah Valley, Inc., which has launched a movement for the creation of a State park commission, with the ultimate purpose of obtaining legislation to this end. "A State park instead of being a financial drain upon the resources of a State," says Secretary D. P. Wine, secretary of the Shenandoah Valley, Inc., "is a factor in the business men of Virginia, has proven in every instance to be an asset, paying revenues beyond the legal rate of interest, some of them paying as high as 20 per cent. The main thing we want to do is to get the people interested and started to serve for coming generations the scenic beauty and historic points of our State. Pennsylvania saw this a long time ago, and today that State has forty-eight State parks, besides a large number of stone shrines and monuments with 150 steel observation towers located in these parks, which carried on their registration books last year more than 4,000,000 names. I am going to ask your cooperation," the letter concludes, "to establish a State park board in Virginia. The Governor has promised to call meetings in the various cities, and I would be glad to have your aid."

Hampton.—A new speed record from Washington to Langley Field was established when six Curtiss pursuit planes, flying in squadron formation, landed at the local flying station just forty-six minutes after leaving Bolling Field. The planes, on a swing around all the army flying stations in the country for purposes of demonstrating the newest type of machines in the army air service, left for Mitchell Field, New York. Pilots in the visiting squadron were Major Spatz, commanding officer of Selfridge Field, Mich., from which place the flight was started Thursday, and Lieutenants Blackburn, Matthews, Brobeck, Warner and Stace. Arriving at Langley these aviators were greeted by Major-General Rickards, chief of the militia bureau of the War Department; Brigadier-General Berry, Adjutant-General of Pennsylvania, and Brigadier-General Price, now at Langley Field with the Two Hundred and Thirteenth Pennsylvania Guard Regiment. A dinner was served at the Officers' Club in honor of the Selfridge men, and while the hosts were Colonel Graham, commanding officer of Langley Field; Major Westover, executive officer; Captain Halden, Captain Hale and Lieutenants Cook, Whitney, Ford and Morton. The air route between Bolling Field, Washington and Langley Field, is 120 miles. According to Lieutenant Ford, wing operations officer at Langley, the time usually required for the trip is seventy-five minutes. According to the officer, the fast time of forty-six minutes for the trip, while not a fast flying record, is considerably less than the best time previously made between these two points.

Charlottesville.—The recent migration of the negro to the North has caused a marked decrease in the enrollment in the public schools of Albemarle county, according to Superintendent A. L. Bennett, in his annual report to the school board on the work done last session. Last year, he says, there were enrolled in the schools of the county 4,758 white and 1,645 colored children, giving a total of 6,381. Five years ago the enrollment was 3,766 white and 1,875 negro, or a total of 5,644.

Lesson for September 7

JESUS HEALS A NOBLEMAN'S SON

LESSON TEXT—John 4:46-54.

GOLDEN TEXT—"I am the way, the truth, and the life."—John 14:6.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Heals a Sick Boy.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Heals a Nobleman's Son.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Belief in Jesus—What It Has Done and Will Do.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What Should We Expect From Faith?

The glorious revival among the Samaritans being over, Jesus, with heart yearning for his countrymen, goes back into Galilee. When He began His work there it was not appreciated as it should have been. His own testimony is that a prophet hath no honor in his own country. Having made a reputation elsewhere He now came back to them.

I. The Nobleman's Earnest Plea (vv. 46, 47). This father's heart was in deep anguish because of the critical illness of his son, but he had the good sense to go to Jesus in his distress. People should eagerly bring their children to the Great Physician. This nobleman was right in his trying to Jesus. Many do not think of Jesus until they are helpless with grief and distress. It is need that always brings men to Jesus. Even when human physicians say there is not hopeless, for there is no case too hard for Christ and there is no disease too difficult nor sorrow too great but relief can be found in Him. Only those who are out of our pleasures, but it is pre-eminently true of our souls. We see here that a rich and influential man is in distress, showing that the rich and exalted are no more exempt from affliction and sorrow than are the poor. Cares and trouble come to all alike. The young are liable to disease and death as are the old. This nobleman learned of Jesus through the testimony of another (v. 47). Had not some one told him about Him, he would not have called upon Him. Before lost men can call upon the Lord some one must tell them about Him (Rom. 10:14, 15).

II. The Testing of the Nobleman's Faith (vv. 48, 49).

In his experience we find an illustration of the development of belief. He had faith, but not an intelligent faith. Before help could be given his attitude of mind must be changed. Jesus declared, "Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe," showing that the nobleman's faith was such as was based upon signs and wonders. The man needed something more than the healing of his son. He must see to know Christ as Savior as well as Healer. He did not allow himself to be put off, but instantly demanded, "Sir, come down ere my child die." This shows that he was now willing to make any experiment to save his boy. His very importunity caused him to lay hold upon the Lord. Jesus desired this man to possess a faith which was based upon His word, and not upon signs and wonders. The way of Jesus is to first reveal Himself as a Savior and then as a Healer.

III. The Nobleman's Faith Victorious (vv. 50-54).

Through his testing he passed with good advantage. He is now ready to receive the Lord's own word, "Go thy way; thy son liveth." How wonderful created true faith and the man stepped out upon it. Forever he believed the words that Jesus spoke unto him he went his way. Faith increases in brightness the longer it is exercised. The foundation upon which he reposed his faith was the word of Jesus. On his return he felt that with confirmation of his servant and him and told him that his son was alive. Upon inquiry he found that the recovery of his son was from the very hour in which Jesus spoke the words. This was such an unmistakable evidence of the deity of Jesus that not only the nobleman, but his household, was won for Christ. This affords us an example of the beauty of household religion. May we all learn that the words of Jesus are reliable. That which He promises in fact is sure as though it had already come to pass. The salvation of the one who believes in Jesus is just as sure as though he had been in heaven and seen his name in the Book of Life. Anxiety for the son brought salvation to the whole house.

Evangelism

"Evangelism is not merely a work of love, it is the sheer law of self-preservation. The heathendom which is growing along the fences of society is scattering its seeds on both sides. Christianity is not make the world better, the world will surely make the church worse."—Herald of Holiness.

Innocent Revenge

He that has learned with meekness and quietness to forgive injuries and do offices of love, has found the best and surest way of healing and defeating them; and he is a kind of heavenly revenge.—Matthew Henry.

Only Two Choices

Said an old salt to the young sprig who had been given a man's job, "there's only two choices. One's duty; t'other's mutiny."—Rev. A. S. Woodhouse.

VERA

Frost was reported in this section of the county Thursday and Friday mornings of last week. "Forewarned is forearmed." You've had your warning farmers, so now its "up to you" to get your tobacco and corn in as soon as possible.

A great deal of the tobacco around here is not more than half grown; and a "sure enough" cold spell would be quite a calamity.

Misses Ida and Neal Jones have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Childers the past week, and attended the protracted meeting at Herman church.

Mr. and Mrs. Childers also had as their guests Rev. and Mrs. Lavender last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Beale and sons, Clarence, Bennie and James, and Ben Megginson motored to Richmond and visited friends there.

Dr. Tuner and Mr. Lockland who were spending a week camping in this neighborhood, had their stay cut short by the serious illness of Dr. Tuner's sister. Their little stay was successful in a way, as they captured two foxes in as many mornings. So their trip was not, as the old darkey says, "a vainless one."

"PAMPLIN"

Everything here is very dry. The gardens and crops are drying up. I hope to send in a better letter when it rains.

FOREST VIEW

We are having such dry weather—the corn is drying up and the tobacco is being cut to save it.

The farmers of this community and some of their wives met at Petty's Fork schoolhouse last Tuesday night to discuss a Co-op county picnic. This local was well represented, and a good number attended the county meeting, which was held at Appomattox last Saturday.

J. L. Martin, Carl E. Margin and children, of Petersburg and Morris Westcott, of Richmond are visiting in the home of A. S. Woodridge. They all spent last Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Martin.

Dull, Sluggish Feeling

"BLACK-DRAUGHT is our household stand-by," says Mrs. Thomas H. Kell, who lives near Elijay, Ga. "We have been using it years and years. My mother's family used it and we do here and my four sisters do, too.

"I could not run my house without Black-Draught. I give it to the children whenever they need a purgative, and both Mr. Kell and myself take it. As a medicine for sluggish liver and headache, and the ills that come with constipation, Black-Draught is fine.

"Lots of times I have felt dull and sluggish, my head would ache and I had to make a great effort to do my work. A little dose of Black-Draught would correct this feeling. We always keep it on the medicine shelf."
